Introduction

This report is intended to show the preferences of teenagers. In order to do my survey, I have used the previous statistics and asked my friends about if they consumed fast food.

Significant changes

The following graph gives information about products that are often eaten by teenagers. The initial impression from the graph is that consumption of sandwiches doubled from 20% to 40% between the years 2010 and 2016. Furthermore, there was a rapid ~~more~~ increase of more than 5% in popularity of hot dogs over the six-year period. By contrast, demand in ~~hand~~ hamburgers declined from over 35% to 19%. As for ^{the} pizza, the research indicates an almost 10% decrease in its consumption between 2010 and 2016. Overall, the comparison shows some dramatic changes in consumption of fast foods.

Factors that caused changes

It can be clearly seen from the graph that some circumstances had an impact on teenagers' tastes. To my mind, it could be caused by the widespread advertisement of sport clubs and healthy food, that is why junk food became less popular. What is more, these changes might be also a ~~result~~ result of fierce ~~com~~ the fierce competition among companies which offer fast food. Some of them just couldn't withstand the pressure and finished their business. The consequence is that people don't have an opportunity to buy pizza or hamburgers but they can find many places where hot dogs and sandwiches are sold.

Predictions of the future

We can't contradict that most people who consume fast food suffer from ~~problems~~ problems with their health and wish the next generation didn't deal with them. Therefore, I adhere to my beliefs that junk food will stop existing and its consumption will fall to 0%. I guess many people will side with me and replace hamburgers, pizza, ~~hot~~ hot dogs and sandwiches ~~and~~ with fruits and vegetables.
