WRITING

Today, on the 15th of March the important event named "Let children study" is taking place in Moscow. Volunteers - several students of our high school, are raising money for building schools for the children, who live in Dareway villages and do not have good abilities and enough money for proper studying. The volunteers are standing in the streets with special donation boxes in which every person can put some money. "Every reasonable will go to charity" - they say.

When the event was over, the students brought the money to their teacher and it turned out to be enough for building two extra classes and buying some equipment.

ment for the students of the 1st-4th grades, who study in a country school, which is situated over 200 kilometers far from Moscow. It is a really good result for the 1st day of the event and I am glad that children realize the importance of getting proper education" - says the headmaster of the school.

People, who gave money for charity are happy they could help children, and volunteers do not want to stop on this and go on with this kind of activities. They also hope that more people will join them the next time.

Now the report is over, goodbye till the next one!
