WRITING

Something truly amazing took place in Samara-city this year! On the 26th of March in the "Mega" shopping centre the "Let the children study" charity event earned money for a truly important purpose - building new great schools in the countryside.

As you can see in the photo below, there were a lot of volunteers dressed-up in a traditional costumes. There are three girls in the foreground, who are putting on the table different original russian piece of art, such as well-known Matryoska-dolls or wooden spoons with breath-taking ornaments on them. While in the background, another group of woman is already showing their products to the viewers. Everything, that is on the table or hanging on the walls, is for sale.

Unfortunately, there are always some very poor suburbs surrounding a big city, where many young children are suffer from lack of education and inability to have a good-quality knowlege. So that I can't but mention the significant meaningfulness of the "let children study" charity event. Luckily, by the end of the day there was enough money risen to build two new schools in the nearby "Borskaya" village. What is more, they will be both provided with all of the equipment needed.

A lot of people showed their kindness by taking part. ~~in the~~ Many of them even promised to help offer their financial support in the future, which was a pleasant surprise. Some ~~parties~~ people left a very good response about their thoughts. But ~~in the~~ overall, everyone were was very glad to help to achieve such an important aim.
