WRITING

Report on "Left children study"

Introduction.

The aim of writing this report is to give people some information about the recent charity event called "left children study" which took place in Moscow on March 7 to raise money for building schools in poor villages.

Activities.

As you may know, this year our city decided to organize an unusual way of collecting money for educational needs. The event was held like a competition including running, jumping and other different kinds of sport. The winners of every challenge had the rights to choose the amount of money they wanted to give. From the photos taken during the event we can see how happy they were while competing.

Result.

Undoubtedly, the importance of the fact that people are ready to spend their money on strangers' education is amazing. Our place reached the goal and collected about 1 million already. The best thing is that a lot of children will be able to get a good degree and enter all the universities they are keen on.

Opinions.

It is widely believed that people have different opinions on this issue. Some of them disapprove of collecting money for poor because of different reasons and factors. Others think charity is the best way to help people. Our hometown's citizens totally agreed with the second idea, however, despite the worries of organizing a useless stuff.

Conclusion.

To sum up, I would like to say that our government is glad we have collected all the money and tries to create some ideas.

TASK 1. LISTENING COMPREHENSION (20 points: 1 answer = 2 points)

For questions 1-10 complete the notes below filling in the gaps with ONE WORD AND/OR A NUMBER.

You will listen to the text ONCE. You have 1 minute to look through the task.

Forgetting things

Tom has always had trouble remembering his girlfriend's cousin's (1) name. He usually (2) avoided calling her anything, which was what he did last time they met. Nobody but his girlfriend noticed that and she was not (3) impressed. She was so angry that she would (4) only speak to Tom for the rest of the afternoon.

Lucy was actually really looking (5) forward to it, but she was so busy that forgot about it completely. By the time she remembered, all the decent shops were closed and she (6) ended up getting him a DVD from a petrol station. He'd bought Lucy some pearl (7) earrings. Lucy forgot about their anniversary and that's why she felt (8) terrible. Apparently, there's some kind of anniversary alert (9) app you can get and they'll send you messages with suggestions for (10) gifts. Lucy will definitely use it next year!

TASK 2. USE OF ENGLISH (10 points: 1 answer = 2 points)

Fill in the gaps with the words from the box. Each word is used only once. You may need to change the word in order for it to fit the context. There are 2 extra words in the box.

Memory Creative Scrapbooking

BECOME - FRAME - INVENT - NICE - EXTREME - TREASURE - TURN

For centuries the art of scrapbooking has been kept alive because we all love mementos and souvenirs of our past. We all like taking photos of our friends and our families because very often we do not get to spend as much time as we would like with them. Creative memory scrapbooking is a wonderful way of keeping these special occasions alive. It is a way of capturing the 11. become moments you spend together in a personal photographic journal that you can make as decorative as you like.

Very often all our photographs stay in boxes or drawers because we never seem to have the time to sort through them. Some of our favorite ones may 12. frame or put into albums which then just stay on a bookshelf gathering dust.

Scrapbooking 13. becomes a wonderful hobby for people to do when they are at home and creative memory scrapbooking means that all those old photos can now be retrieved from the boxes and drawers to be sorted and reminisced over in the 14. turn of possible ways.

It is a very therapeutic pastime which keeps memories alive for the whole family to enjoy and appreciate. This whole concept of scrapbooking is an 15. extreme approach to making sure nothing is ever forgotten. Scrapbooks are far nicer than simple photo albums because you can make them into beautifully decorative books which have your own very personal touch to them. These books tell the world exactly who you are and how you express yourself.

TASK 3. READING (10 points: 1 answer = 1 point)

Put the following paragraphs in the correct order to recreate the text. Answer sheet 16- 25.

Picture Books and Children

By ALAN SMITH

- 3 A. "So many of them just die a sad little death, and we never see them again," said Terri Schmitz, the owner.
- 7 B. Literacy experts are quick to say that picture books are not for dummies. Publishers praise the picture book for the particular way it can develop a child's critical thinking skills.
- 12 C. "There's a real push with parents and schools to have kids start reading big-kid books earlier. We've accelerated the graduation rate out of picture books."
- 4 D. The economic downturn is certainly a major factor, but many in the industry see an additional reason for the slump. Parents have begun pressing their kindergartners and first graders to leave the picture book behind and move on to more text-heavy chapter books.
- 1 E. PICTURE books are so unpopular these days at the Children's Book Shop in Brookline, Mass., that employees there are used to placing new copies on the shelves and then returning them to the publisher.
- 9 F. Many parents overlook the fact that chapter books, even though they have more text, full paragraphs and fewer pictures, are not necessarily more complex. "Some of the vocabulary in a picture book is much more challenging than in a chapter book," said Kris Vreeland, a book buyer for Vroman's Bookstore in Pasadena, Calif., where sales of picture books have been down.
- 6 G. Booksellers see this shift too. "They're 4 years old, and their parents are getting them 'Stuart Little,'" said Dara La Porte, the manager of the children's department at the Prose bookstore in Washington. "I see children pick up picture books, and then the parents say, 'You can do better than this, you can do more than this.' It's a terrible pressure parents are feeling — that I shouldn't let my child have this picture book because she won't get into Harvard."

8 H. "To some degree, picture books force an analog way of thinking," said Karen Lotz, the publisher of Candlewick Press in Somerville, Mass. "From picture to picture, as the reader interacts with the book, their imagination is filling in the missing themes."

5 I. "Parents are saying, 'My kid doesn't need books with pictures anymore,'" said Justin Chanda, the publisher of Simon & Schuster Books for Young Readers.

1 10 J. "The words themselves, and the concepts, can be very sophisticated in a picture book."

TASK 4. WRITING (60 points)

(40 minutes, 200-250 words)

Your school magazine asked you to write a news report on the recent CHARITY event in your town called "Let Children Study" the aim of which was to raise money for building schools in poor villages.

Write your report. Follow the format and the style of report writing.

Follow the plan:

- 1. Name the date, the place and the event;
- 2. Describe what people are doing in the picture;
- 3. Signify the result and importance of this event;
- 4. Introduce peoples' opinions.
