- 1) What does a graphic novel include?
- 2) What have you learned from this text about Japan?
- 3) What word combinations are abbreviated in the text?
- 4) What graphic novels help gain popularity of this term?
- 5) What is the difference between graphic novels and visual novels?

№2

Task 1: 13

Now I have just read the text "Graphic novel" from Wikipedia. The main topic is kinds of novels and their creations and development.

The first type of novels is a graphic novel. It consists of comics content. First, historian Richard Kyle used the term "graphic novel" in his work. After that, this kind of novels started gaining popularity. The term was accepted in 2001 by the BISG. Apart from these facts, the term has no its definition.

Another type of novels is a visual novel which is a video game genre or a mixed-media novel. It originated in Japan. The main distinction between NVL and AVG is the number of interactive elements. Using anime-style art is important and text-based story is necessary for this type.

In my opinion, a graphic novel isn't an important genre of literature as it is less informative than others.

Task 2: 33

I woke up in the morning and found myself in an unfamiliar place with only dinosaurs all around. There was only a big stone instead of my bed. I was so frightened. I saw a big green dinosaur with the longest neck I had ever seen. It was rushing to me. I stood up immediately, turned around and ran away in jungles, screaming loudly.

I had been running for an hour before I was exhausted. Then I heard one's voice. He or she shouted. Some seconds later I saw a man who wore a red shirt, black trousers and blue trainers.

— Where are you from? — the man asked.

— I don't know, — I answered.

— What is your name?

— Jack. Jack Wolton.

— Nil Nelson. Nice to see you here. I haven't seen humans for ages.

— Where are we? How can I go home? — I shouted.

— If only I had known. — he answered

— What is this place?

— I know only it is an island which is full of dinosaurs, for example... — he stopped talking, staring at my back. — Don't move, — he said and came to me.

Then he took a stick and knocked something nearby my back.

— What are you doing? — I screamed

— Look! This is an "acid frog".

Условие 3

I went to the red frog. It didn't move...
But it opened its eyes and... JUMPED at me.
- Ah!

I got up...
