- 2) Did the graphic novel become attractive fast or not?
- 3) Visual novels are used as an entertainment, aren't they?
- 4) Did Michael Kyle create the graphic novel or publish books?
- 5) What inspired historians to invent visual novels?

Task 1: 13

"The importance of modern literature."

To begin with, graphic novels are a source of modern literature. These novels consist of different genres, such as fiction and non-fiction.

The graphic novel was invented by Richard Kyle. It became popular with readers right after "Contract with God" had come into production. Also, a huge collection of various writers' books made an amazing success. For example, Frank Miller's works became best-sellers.

Graphic novels are usually made for fun. They don't tend to be serious.

However, there are visual novels too. They have the same popularity as adventure games, but second ones are more interactive. Despite some disadvantages of visual novels, both types are appreciated by readers.

As for me, I believe that modern literature is valuable for our society. It teaches us how to behave in difficult situations and develops our thinking. All in all, I advise teenagers to read more books of their favourite genres.

Task 2: 30

I want to tell you a story about my adventures. It all happened when I was really talkative and open-minded, two years ago.

One day, I woke up in the morning and realized that I wasn't at home. I tried to call my mum but her phone number was unavailable. After that, I turned around and saw that I was in the cave. I didn't have anything except big stones and a knife.

Suddenly, I heard a strange sound. There were three big dinosaurs behind me. They wanted to eat me so I screamed and ran out of the cave. I found two more people next to me. They were a brother and a sister. I asked them: "What are your names?" and they answered: "My name is Dave and this is my younger sister Lily." The boy was completely pale and his face was serious. He was tall and slim. I understood that he didn't want to talk to me, so I asked his sister: "Lily, can you tell me: where do you live?" A girl smiled and said: "We live underground. Are you afraid of dinosaurs?" I told her: "Yes, I feel scared. Can I come to your place with you?" They nodded their heads and showed me the way where their home was. It was completely dark there. We sat around the fire and asked them: "Guys, how can I come to my home? I don't want to stay there." The girl and the boy responded: "You should dance around a fire and sing your favourite song." to laugh, but stopped myself.

I was dancing around the fire and singing the song for ten minutes. After that, I appeared at my home. I was really happy to see my parents.

After that, a huge collection of different writers' books became best-sellers. For example, Frank Miller's work made an amazing success.

The definition of the word "graphic novel" isn't accurate. It means stories without any concrete chronology. Such books are usually made for fun.

However, there are visual novels too. They are a bit similar to graphic novels. But visual novels are made as online video interactions. So, you can play them like a game. There is a large amount of visual novels in Japan. They have almost the same popularity as adventure games. On the other hand, adventure games include more interaction, such as thinking. ~~Both~~ Despite disadvantages of visual novels, both types are appreciated by readers.
