The article 'Realism' from Wikipedia provides its readers with ~~some~~ ~~an~~ information about an artistic movement the name of which coincides with the title of the article.

It is said in the ~~text~~ text that Realism appeared in France at the end of the first half of the nineteenth century. The artistic movement rejected Romanticism and was against exaggerated emotionalism, as it aimed at depicting everyday situations. Having emerged, Realism was made popular by Gustave Courbet. Soon ~~European countries~~ Europe got interested in the movement. Realism remained influential until the 20th century. However, due to becoming mainstream Realism ~~lost~~ lost momentum.

There are a lot of examples of famous realist works. The most renowned Realists of Russia are Ilya Repin, Ivan Shishkin and Vasily Vereshchagin, who reflected landscape and war in their works.

On balance, I believe that Realism is a cultural phenomenon of utmost importance because it helped people to see the real life, and so they were not misguided by exaggerations of Romanticism.

WHERE AM I?

[I woke up in the morning and found myself in an unfamiliar place with only sand all around.] At first, I didn't know what to do ~~and where to go~~. That's why I decided to look around.

When I looked up, I saw green trees of unprecedented ~~beauty~~ beauty. The weather was warm, ~~but~~ but I could feel ~~the~~ some kind of pleasant breeze on my face. As there was a lot of sand around me, I came up with a presupposition that ~~it~~ it was a beach. So, I decided to get closer to water. When I finally came to the shore, I saw crystal clear water and a lot of fish of ~~unusual~~ unusual colours. ~~While I was going~~

While I was gazing at the scenery, someone approached me. 'What are you doing here?' - asked the man who was standing behind me. ~~I got a shocked look on my face~~ 'I wish I knew' - said I. The man realized that I ~~had~~ didn't have the foggiest idea what I was doing there. 'Oh, I see. Let's go to my house. I'll help to find the way out' - said the man. I had no other choice. That's why I went with him.

When we came to an unobtrusive bungalow, I saw a woman. Later I found out that her name was Juliet and she was married to the man I ~~met~~ met, whose name was Erick. ~~I must admit that Juliet was a middle-aged pretty middle-aged woman and Erick was a handsome young man.~~ They were ~~also~~ very kind to me and helped me to think how to I could get back home. Not having come up with anything idea, we ~~just~~ fell asleep.

I woke up in the morning and went outside. When I saw what was around me, my heart sank. I couldn't believe my eyes but I was in my hometown. In the ~~end~~ Finally, I found ^{out} that the situation that had happened to me was a joke organized by my friends who wanted to see my reaction. In the end, we all laughed. and
