5. Are VN popular in Japan?

Task 1: 15

Task 2.

The article under the title "Graphic novel" published in Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia, is devoted to such genres as graphic and visual novels. At the beginning of the article the author states that a graphic novel contains comics and is usually used to refer to fiction, real life stories and anthologies. The term was created by Richard Kyle in 1964 in a comics for fans, became popular with public in the late 1980s after Art Spiegelman's Maus and some other works were released.

The author goes on to speak about visual novels defining them as a genre of computer games. The author points out that VNs are similar to mixed-media novels and are more seldom called "novel games", mostly ~~mostly~~ by their admirers. The genre appeared in Japan^{an}, where it is differentiated from adventure games as the latter include ^{Yumodux 2} elements of gameplay.

In my opinion, these genres are essential for modern youth culture as they are fascinating and extremely popular.

Task 3. Task 2: 33

I woke up ~~early~~ in the morning and found myself in an unfamiliar place with only dinosaurs all around. I was astonished. I saw my best friend Masha nearby. We tried to remember what had happened the day before. Unfortunately, we couldn't. We looked around and went to the nearby forest.

"Have we been going ^{for} almost 3 hours? Can we have a rest?" - my friend asked.

"No, we should go back ~~to our~~ home!" - I answered.

"Ok".

~~We~~ Suddenly we saw a big red dinosaur next to us. My friend and I were running to the tree while the dinosaur was running back.

We came to a beautiful cave. There were a lot of amazing flowers, trees and houses. Everything was made of brilliants. Masha saw a woman. She was a witch. We explained all the situation.

The witch said that she could help us, however, we had to help her. We cleaned her house, washed the dishes, walked with her pets. It was really ^{exciting} ~~interesting~~. Then the witch helped us and in a second we were in my house. My friend and I were happy. We went to my mum and told her everything. She only smiled. Soon we realized that we had travelled in time. And had found ourselves in the Jurassic period. Then we went for a walk and saw a very old woman. We recognized her. She was the witch whom Masha had seen in the cave.
