~~Once upon a time, on a sunny~~
Task 4

Once upon a time, on a sunny summer day, it was Sleeping Beauty's 15th birthday. She was bubbling with excitement, eagerly anticipating the gathering of her closest friends. Her parents had promised her a surprise, and Beauty couldn't wait to find out what it was.

As the evening approached, Beauty's friends started arriving one by one. Unlucky for Beauty, her enemy Sarah snuck in. She had the plan to ruin the party by making Beauty fall asleep for eternity. While Beauty and her friends were playing games and eating delicious snacks, Sarah mixed Beauty's water bottle with her magical poison. It was so horrible that Beauty would never wake up again if she drank it. Luckily, Beauty's best friend David was at the party. He quickly noticed Sarah switch bottles and used his mobile phone to neutralize the poison. After that, David told Beauty's mother about the situation, and Sarah was soon kicked out of the ~~house~~ party.

The evening continued with music, dancing and laughter under the starlit sky. Just as Beauty ~~was beginning~~ began wondering about the promised surprise, her parents led her blindfolded into the backyard. When the blindfold was removed, Beauty's eyes widened in astonishment. Before her stood a decorated summer house, adorned with twinkling lights and colourful balloons. The party continued in that house, and everyone lived happily ever after.

The moral of the story is that your friends always have your back and are ready to help you no ~~matter~~ matter what.
